

CRÉATION BAUMANN | PRIVATE

VM houses in Ørestaden, Copenhagen, Denmark

Architects:
CITA - Centre for IT and Architecture, Copenhagen

Initial situation:
This new type of building is based on the requirement for a lighter and breezier environment. The floor-to-ceiling windows make the line between the private and public space disappear.

Solution:
'Ice Fern' is a sculptural curtain that constantly evolves. The curtain's form can be changed constantly to ensure various different degrees of privacy - depending on requirements. Those parts of the curtain not in use are moved against the wall in order to dissolve the line between windows and wall. Gecko Crypta is cut by laser and then covered in laser-cut plastic.

Product:
Gecko Crypta

«GECKO: THINK FORWARD» competition prize winner in the category „Aesthetics“.
