GECKO IN THE BOX | ADHESIVE TEXTILES

Spring arrives with GECKO

The three new GECKO IN THE BOX designs from Création Baumann bring colour and movement to your windows. Bright splashes of colour, multiplication tables or graphic rectangles – you can place them wherever you like on your window panes to create playful, spring-like images, and then take them off again without a mark. The challenge lies in the infinite variety of options. The tailor-made sections fit together to form endless new shapes and versions, which can then be used as privacy screens or anti-glare shades, or purely as decorative elements. GECKO IN THE BOX sets new heights of creativity and has no boundaries.

GECKO has been steadily conquering the world of architecture since it was initially introduced in 2007: the textile was developed in a research project lasting several years, and uses adhesive power to stay in position – just like its cousin in the animal kingdom. It can be placed directly onto glass surfaces and removed later without losing its power of adhesion. It is also UV-proof and easy to clean. Création Baumann has already been awarded many design prizes for this innovative product. Following the successful launch of GECKO IN THE BOX in the autumn of 2009, the new designs of GRAFICO, ROTONDO and CUBICO are now available as presentation sets in a fine gift box.
