ALPINE PEAKS

Holiday home, Upper Valais, Switzerland

Architect:
Tschan InnenArchitektur, Möriken,
Switzerland

Initial situation:
The architectural and design weaknesses of an unfinished building, i.e. small windows and skew floor plans, were to be compensated with a high quality finishings.

Solution:
The mood in the room was to be achieved with a small number of carefully combined materials and surfaces expressing the character of the Alpine world. A classic linen fabric determines the atmosphere in the living room and proves to be a perfect fit with the other natural materials. A simple, semi-transparent, plain colored fabric was chosen for the roller blinds in the living- and bathrooms.
