A beautifully furnished apartment is a prerequisite to individual wellbeing; it should transmit a feeling of harmony and security – to act as a counterpoint to our high-tech environment. Textiles and home accessories play an important part. The natural look is particularly in line with the current trend – casual and elegant at one and the same time.

With the new “Linen & Friends” Collection Création Baumann expands and develops its existing linen range. “The new collection is designed to be light and subtle in appearance, earthy and powdery in colouring and severe and soft in the combination of materials”, says Sibylle Aeberhard, the designer. The design team of the Langenthal based textile company in Switzerland created a whole series of new uni qualities with different transparencies for the collection.

“Filino Color II” the semi-transparent curtain fabric, this long-standing company classic has been given a new contemporary look. A new dye and finishing process lends the elegant linen texture a softer feel. The delicate Nordic inspired colour palette captivates with light wood and earthy tones, alongside tantalising tints in green and midnight blue, a warm grey and subtle powder shades in pastels. “Scalino”, a high quality decoration fabric complements the multi faceted fabric. Sewn filigree pleats form three-dimensional lines that converge in a diamond pattern. The outer edge of the plissés is finished with elaborate cord thread embroidery in an accentuating colour. Reminiscent of origami, the curtain fabric is available in six light and airy colours.

The new linen fabric “Linnus” is a dense, woven curtain fabric with an exceptionally soft feel. The colour palette consists of 20 colourits; neutral hues and broken tones in green and coffee are counterbalanced with bright yellowy-green, orange and sky-blue. This uni fabric is supplemented with “Orion”, a decoration fabric with a linear design. The embroidered grid spreads netlike across the fabric. The contrast between the soft linen and the compact metal embroidery generates a fascinating interplay. The fabric is available in five colours which combine neutral shades with metallic colours in gold, silver and copper. The cushion “Mira”, which is available in three colours, is also based on the linen fabric “Linnus”. The high quality application in wool on linen plays with ethnic and contemporary graphic elements.

The high quality linen fabrics are harmoniously supplemented with fabrics which have a natural look – “Linen & Friends” as the name of the collection implies. Amongst them are two semi-transparent curtain fabrics: “Tamino”, the linen-polyester weave with its soft transparent charm harmonizes well in simple “casual” interiors. An attractive interplay with density and transparency ensues from “Solea”, the soft Trevira CS fabric with the very natural look. The collection is rounded off with the upholstery fabric “Leone”, which combines the natural sheen of linen with the soft look of chenille yarn. Deep berry tones are amongst the 25 colours.

The uni fabrics are delicately contrasted with the printed curtain fabric “Campanella” in Trevira CS. On a transparent base, pressed meadow flowers and delicate foliage appear as if they had been delicately scattered by hand. A graphic grid design in a darker colour overlays the blooms and leaves like a soft veil lending the fabric a contemporary and poetic look. The design is available on a white and a linen coloured base.

The “Linen & Friends” Collection introduces a natural, elegant ambiance into the stylish home.
