THE MOUNTAINS ARE CALLING

It takes just a simple step to bring the mountains into the office.

SITUATION

The EKI Bank is in the centre of Interlaken. The transformation of the counter area expanded both the 24-hour zone and also created meeting rooms for short meetings in addition to 20 newly designed offices for the bank advisers on the first floor. The offices are given a completely new character through the use of natural materials, such as wood and stone.

SOLUTION

The PRINTACOUSTIC MOUNTAIN curtain fabric was used to complement the natural materials. The printed curtain fabric with mountain designs and sound-absorbing properties is used to provide visual protection for short meetings and, at the same time, is an eye-catching feature in the newly designed area of the EKI Bank.
